

BOOK

A Midsummer Day's Dream

2010

In 2009 photo artist Harvey Bengel had the idea of getting a group of photographers together to shoot a book in a day. On June 21st, 2010, – the day of the solstice – ten of the world's leading photographers of today each shot a series for the book, in different places around the world. The individual concepts for the ONE DAY series are as multifaceted as the work of the included artists. The result is a truly unique collector's item, a boxed set including ten individual and elaborately designed hardcover books. By Rinko Kawauchi, Eva Maria Ocherbauer, Martin Parr, Alec Soth, Jessica Backhaus, Gerry Badger, Harvey Bengel, John Gossage, Todd Hido, Rob Hornstra.

ONE DAY 10 photographers

Ten half linen bound hardcovers in a slipcase
Size: 16,5 x 22 cm | 304 pages | 194 color illustrations
ISBN 978-3-86828-173-6 2010

The pictures for A Midsummer Day's Dream were taken in Felgentreu, Brandenburg, Germany at a former military training ground, which was active from 1864 till the 1990s. Still contaminated with various munitions this area is not accessible, declared as a nature reserve today.

Selected title German Photo Book Award 2012

For placing an order kindly go to: www.kehrerverlag.com
CONTACT: evamaria@ocherbauer.de

